NRA is not the only new deal under the sun. For the Outrigger Canoe club, under its new president, Leslie A. Hicks, is starting one all its own. They're making a drive for new members. Initiation fee is waived and all members that are not delinquent may participate and win some of the wonderful prizes they've put up for each new member brought in. Each new member means 18 points and if you get a half a dozen "18 points," you'll be surprised at what a prize you'll receive. Come on, gang, let's go.
