

---

Several of the girls of the Out-rigger Canoe club were wearing those funny looking "rice hats," I calls 'em, because they are so remindful of the hats that the Japanese paddymen wear while tilling their rice patches. Besides being colorful, these hats could be very practical at the football games, where the sun pours down, and the "liquid sunshine" sometimes, too.

---