

Indoor Swim Season Opens This Evening

First of Series to Be Held
In University of Hawaii Tank

THE HAWAIIAN Indoor Swimming Championship season will be ripped open tonight with the staging of the first of a series of meets in the University of Hawaii pool. The indoor title meets will be staged under the auspices of the University of Hawaii.

"Pump" Searle, chairman of the Hawaiian A.A.U. and coach of the University of Hawaii aquatic aggregation, stated yesterday that indications are that a large crowd will take in the initial meet of the series.

The ticket office at the U.H. tank will open at 5 o'clock. Bleachers have been set up with a capacity to seat at least 300 fans. A good view of the races can be had from any spot on the bleachers.

FOUR TITLE EVENTS

Four Hawaiian championship events are on the program which consists of 14 events. The titular competes are the 500-yard freestyle, 10-foot board diving, 100-yard breaststroke for women and the 220-yard freestyle for women.

The 200-yards relay open for women will also be staged tonight. In this event, teams from the University of Hawaii, Citywide Athletic association, and the Outrigger Canoe club will vie for honors.

The diving will bring together in competition the leading divers of the territory. Heading the list and favored to win is Alvarez, of the United States army. Qualifying dives were held Tuesday night and the following besides Alvarez were picked for the finals: Greiner, Snyder, Campbell, and Gerywacz of the Army and Wilfred Oka of the University of Hawaii.

HARD RACE EXPECTED

A gruelling race is anticipated in the 500-yard freestyle for the Hawaiian championship. Primed to put up a bitter battle for first honors are Wilbur Crow, and Kuramoto of the University, Tannehill, Cremer and Raynor of the Army and Kapua Harris and Shiraki of the 40 and 8 club.

All of them are capable swimmers