at Waikiki and that indications pointed to increased interest in the Outrigger club on the part of canoe and surfing fans.

The second Kona regatta will be staged late in July and again Center hopes to send a full complement of crews to Kealahou to participate. Already interest in this mid-summer event is beginning to show itself at the club and an influx of new members is expected to commence within the next 30 days he declared.

According to Center, owners of the trans-Pacific yachts which will race to Honolulu on July 1, have requested that the Kona regatta be held late enough in the month to permit the entire fleet of racing yachts to sail to the scene of the races and help to form the background for what promises to become one of Hawaii's outstanding sports events.

COMMUNITY CENTER

The Outrigger club has served as a community entertainment center during countless round-the-world cruises and thousands of visitors have been entertained out in the surf as a result of the club's interest. Many of the world's leading figures have sat in an Outrigger Club canoe and experienced the thrill of a wild ride shoreward from "first break" and the club is talked-of wherever aquatic fans gather.

Prominent citizens yesterday declared that every effort should be made to keep the club alive and thriving in its present location and there is little doubt that not only the members, but the community as a whole, will show great interest in the plan which will save the OCC from going out of existence.

All members are urged to attend the meeting next Wednesday evening.
