

A Word For The Outrigger Canoe Club

Announcement that the Outrigger Canoe Club membership has, with the cooperation of friends, been able to lift itself out of its financial difficulties for the present, is good news. The continuation of the Outrigger Canoe Club is a distinct asset to Honolulu, as it not only forms an outlet for our youth to participate in clean, healthful sports activities but at the same time forms a background of surfing at Waikiki which is a major attraction to many tourists.

The Advertiser believes that if a suitable reorganization plan can be worked out, the trustee and beneficiary of the Queen Emma estate will be happy to cooperate in the extension of the lease for a period of thirty years, to the ultimate advantage of all concerned.

The Club has always been ready and willing to do its part in entertaining and giving pleasure to large visiting delegations of tourists, in sending its boys and girls out in canoes to welcome in true Hawaiian style visiting dignitaries, and should by all means, on the basis of its record, be given the support of the community so that it may continue to grow in value.
