

Oahu, Hawaii And Molokai Paddlers Begin Real Work

Paddlers from three clubs on Oahu, the Hui Nalu, Outrigger Canoe club and the Queen's Surf-riders, numbering close to 100, have opened practice in earnest on the Ala Moana channel for the coming July 4 races that are to be held as a sort of preliminary to the annual classic on Kealakakua bay, scheduled for July 28.

While the Honolulu paddlers are commencing practice, the oar pullers from the other islands, Molokai and Hawaii, are not idle.

For some time now they have gone through rigid workouts and have a jump on the local paddlers as far as training is concerned.

Crack crews much faster than last year are reported to be in the making by outside island coaches.

Those who have answered the call of the respective clubs here for candidates follow:

Hui Nalu Club

John D. Kaupiko Sr., coach; James Whittle, trainer and manager.

W. Bayne, W. Broad, W. Hong, Sam Kahanamoku, J. Kamana, D. Kanae, John D. Kaupiko Jr., M. Love, W. Love, A. Lambert, K. Mackinney, Ah Kong Pang, Malcolm Paoa, Mel Paoa, S. Pleasanton, W. Paul, R. Ross, Fred Steere, Leon Sterling Jr., Howard Vierra, Francis Wai, Fred Wilhelm.

Hui Nalu Girl Crews

Molly Akana, Margaret Bixby, Kahala Bray, Babe Gillespie, Matilda Joe, Erminie Holt, Lydia Kealoha, Lurline Lemon, Mary Lishman, Ethelwin Lincoln, Lydia Mahi, Keli Paoa, Ramona Petrie, Salome Pickard, Cutie Silva, Mabel Simmons, Aolani Wilhelm, Jenny

(Continued on Page 11)