

PADDLERS ALL SET FOR FOURTH OF JULY RACES ON ALA MOANA

Nine Crews Will Carry Black and Gold of Hui Nalu In Races—Ala Moana Presents Busy Scene As Paddlers Wind Up Training

By RED McQUEEN

NINE crews will carry the Black and Gold of Hui Nalu in the Fourth of July canoe races on the Ala Moana. The make-up of the various Hui Nalu crews were announced yesterday by Jimmy Whittle, club manager, after Coach John D. Kaupiko, Sr., had sent the boys and girls alike, through their final stiff paces in preparation for Wednesday's regatta.

The Black and Golds will have six men's crews and three girls' combinations in the regatta. It was announced that they would enter two crews in the girls' junior six event.

Every paddler who has been turning out regularly for practice will be used in one crew or another.

THE LINEUPS

The various lineups follow:

Men's Senior Six—Melvin Paoa, Ah Kong Pang, Sargeant Kahanamoku, Fred Steers, Steve Pleasanton, Sam Kahanamoku.

ROW REGULAR COURSE

Coach Kaupiko sent all of his crews over the regular course to be rowed Wednesday in time trials yesterday. While he refused to disclose the marks made, it was easy to see that he was pleased with the showing of his charges.

Dude Miller, No. 1 boss of the Hui Nalu Club, was on hand to see how things were getting along.

The Outrigger crews also "got the works" yesterday. Coach Dad Center sent both the boys and the girls over the course and followed each crew in a motorboat, instructing them through a megaphone.

Outrigger will have the same number of crews in the races as Hui Nalu. They will also use two boats in the girls' junior.

It was learned yesterday that "Toots" Minvielle, who stroked the O.C.C.'s to victory in the blue ribbon event of the Kona regatta last year, will come down from Molokai in time to pull an oar in the Outrigger senior boat on Wednesday.

Willie Whittle and his Queen's Surfers staged their workout yesterday off Waikiki Beach. Whittle will

Canners Win Match From Territorials

Marciel Makes Hole in One During Play at Country Club

THE Pineapple Canners took the measure of the Territorial Offices in a Commercial League golf match yesterday morning at the Oahu Country Club. The final totals were Piners 23½, Territorials 18½.

George Marciel of the Territorials, scored a hole in one on the 11th hole. He was playing in a foursome that included E. F. Cornell, Mel Melancon and Jim Clarke at the time of the ace. He used a No. 7 iron to accomplish the feat. It was a beautiful shot, the ball splitting the pin all the way. The hole measures 160 yards.

Marciel automatically becomes a member of the Territorial Hole in One club, sponsored in the Islands by Dawkins Benny, local jewelers.

Scores for yesterday's match follow:
