

PADDLERS IN FINAL DRILLS TODAY

Sail for Kona Monday - Tuesday

ALOHA RALLY AT KGU TONIGHT

OAHU canoe paddlers who have been preparing for the past two months for the big Kona races next Saturday morning on Kealahou Bay, will bring their local training to a close today with the staging of final stiff workouts on the Ala Moana.

The advance guard of the Oahu delegation, the senior crews from the Outrigger, Hui Nalu and Queen's Surriders clubs, will sail for Kona to take up camp at Keauhou, on the Humuula at noon Monday. The remaining members of Oahu's three clubs will leave for Kona on the Coast Guard cutter Itasca bright and early Tuesday morning. All three clubs will prepare their boats for shipping after this morning's workouts.

RALLY TONIGHT

The definite sailing time of the Itasca could not be learned yesterday. The detail will be announced over the radio tonight when coaches

Gold Medals At Stake In Races at Kona

Gold medals will be awarded members of the winner crews in the Kona Canoe races on August 4. The Kona Civic Club is donating the medals for the Senior Six event, the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce those for the Junior Six, Princess Kawananakoa those for the women's six event, Paul Fagan those for the senior four and two paddle compets and William Roth, the junior four.

and members of the various local crews will gather at KGU for a 30-minute Aloha rally from 8:30 to 9:00. Every paddler making the Kona trip is expected to put in an appearance at KGU for this rally tonight. The program will include a group of numbers by a quartet led by Sam Kahanamoku. Coaches who have not been reached by this department, are also urged to be present.

Paddlers are reminded that they are to take their own sheets, blankets, pillow cases and towels to Kona. Those sailing on the Itasca must have their breakfast before boarding the cutter and would also do well to take along their own lunches. The Itasca will stop at Kaunakakai en route to Kona to pick up the Molokai crews. She expects to reach her destination in 12 hours which means that the paddlers can expect to reach their Keauhou camp around 6 p. m. Tuesday. The Humuula will reach Kona Tuesday morning.

HARSH

Is there anything worse than to be wakened in the morning by a banging, noisy alarm-clock that fairly kicks you out of bed?

GENTLE

Is there anything more pleasant than to end a night's deep, refreshing sleep with the polite call of Big Ben? First he whispers—a gentle call of chimes. Then, if you simply won't get up, he shouts—loud enough to wake the soundest sleeper.
