

ADVANCE GUARD OF LOCAL DELEGATION LEAVE ON HUMUULA

Outrigger, Queen's Surfriders and Hui Nalu Seniors To Be First Off—Others Sail 6 A.M. Tuesday on Itasca

THEY sail today—the senior crews from the Outrigger, Hui Nalu and Queen's Surfriders clubs—for Kona to establish training quarters for the big canoe races next Saturday morning on Kealahou Bay.

Twenty-five strong including their coaches, the Oahu delegation will depart at noon on the Humuula and arrive in Kona Tuesday morning. The remaining local paddlers will sail on the Coast Guard Cutter Itasca at 6 a.m. Tuesday morning, arriving in Kona some 14 hours later.

The Oahu paddlers will establish their headquarters at Keauhou.

The paddlers held their final workouts yesterday on the Ala Moana, following which respective coaches announced that the lineups previously published in this paper would stand.

ALOHA RALLY

Last night coaches and paddlers from all three clubs gathered at KGU, radio service of The Honolulu Advertiser, for an Aloha rally that included short statements by coaches and others closely connected with the regatta. That the local paddlers have deep respect for the Kona crews was clearly evidenced.

Final instructions regarding the trip were given. Those sailing on the Itasca were instructed to be on hand at 5:45 a.m. Tuesday; that Commander John Baylis announced that the boat would pull away on the minute at six o'clock.

All were told to have breakfast before coming to the ship and that luncheon would be supplied by the Itasca, although there would be a small charge for same which the paddlers would personally have to meet.

Commander Baylis said that the cutter required 12 hours for the straight run to Kona. However, by stopping at Kaunakakai to pick up Pump Searle and 20 of his Molokai huskies, the trip would take about 14 hours.

The paddlers were also reminded to take their own sheets, covers, pillow slips and towels to Kona.

THE PROGRAM

The tentative program for the regatta calls for the first race to start at 9 o'clock next Saturday morning. Six events are listed, five for men and one for women. The men's junior two has been deleted but local coaches said yesterday that they would ask Kona officials to restore it on the program.

The list of events follows:

1. Men's junior four.
2. Men's senior two.
3. Men's senior six (Blue Ribbon event).
4. Men's junior six.
5. Women's senior six.
6. Men's senior four.

It has been estimated that the regatta will last two hours, coming to a close at 11 o'clock.

Two crews will be sent from here for the women's event, one from the Outrigger and one from the Hui Nalu club. The girls will leave next Thursday on the Humuula.
