

HUI MAKANI WITHDRAWS

TWO weeks ago at a meeting of the Hui Makani, local swimming club coached by Harvey Chilton, voted not to compete in the coming A. A. U. Indoor championships to be staged in the University of Hawaii tank and under the direction of Theodore (Pump) Searle.

Hui Makani boys insist they were treated badly by Messrs. Searle and Dad Center at the Thanksgiving swims held by the Outrigger Canoe club and felt they would be discriminated against at the University.

This news has been suppressed hoping that Hui Makani members would change their minds, but it seems they have not.

Army will not be able to enter a team in the meet because of maneuvers next April.

Hui Makani has a legitimate kick coming and I believe that their case should be taken up by the Hawaiian A. A. U. body at the next meeting.

One way to encourage swimming and keep the sport going is to have the A. A. U. work in harmony with all of its affiliated clubs who foster this sport.
