

OUTRIGGER FOR WAIKIKI

Five Boats Will Compete In One Mile Ocean Event

STIFF malihini muscles are in order this week at Waikiki as five crews finish up training for the big race Sunday.

What? You haven't heard about it? Well, it's coming off Sunday at 3 p.m., five crews entered, and it looks like anybody's race.

Each canoe will have a four-man crew—three island boys and one malihini—and the distance is one mile. The canoes will take off in front of the Outrigger Club at 3 p.m., then head for the turn a half mile out, beyond Canoe Surf. After making the turn the canoes will return through the surf. If they can catch a wave on the way in, so much the better.

There is no handsome trophy at stake, no prize money, but the losing crew treats the others to a big dinner following the race.

As the crews lined up yesterday they included:

No. 1 — Sergeant Kahanamoku, Louis Kahanamoku and Sam Kahanamoku, Sam as steersman, and Stanley Barbee as malihini.

No. 2 — Duke Kahanamoku, Walter Macfarlane, Bill Hollinger and Tom Bragg, malihini.

No. 3 — Bill Mullahey, Fred Himmings, George Bates and Marc Van Ness.

No. 4 — Chick Daniels, Panama Dave, Sally Hale and Bob Topping, Jr.

No. 5 — Frank Telles, Curly Cornwall, John Makua and Paul Grade.
