

Outrigger Makes Plans For Volleyball Outfits

At an enthusiastic meeting of 30 members of the Outrigger Canoe club plans were discussed for extensive activities in volleyball.

Following a beach supper held on the club lanai various members of the volleyball committee told of plans and rules for a club tournament. It was decided to form a club volleyball league to consist of about six teams, that a tournament be held lasting four months and that games be played on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays under standard volleyball rules. Teams will be made up of as nearly equal strength as possible in order that all degrees of players be given an opportunity to participate. Captains for teams in this league were chosen and voted upon and were as follows: Elmer (Pitcher) Kraft, Waldo (Schoolboy) Bowman, George (Push) Perry, Mary (Coolhead) Westgate, David (Dad) Center, "Tommy" Singlehurst, Richard (Brains) Janda.

In addition a team was organized to play in the business men's tournament. This team consists of older men and a first series of games was played at the Central YMCA, the Outrigger club playing the Lions club team.
