

his boxers. A delegation will go out port.

Choo also stated that Charlie Miller, one of the best crowd pleasers to show here, will arrive in Honolulu soon for a series of bouts. Miller is a lightweight.

There was quite a discussion at the commission's meeting on the matter of fines imposed on overweight fighters. Chairman Flint was in favor of turning over the money to opponents of such boxers.

However, action was deferred as strenuous objections were raised by other commissioners who pointed out that in a majority of cases it was the same fighters come in overweight.

The commission went on record as favoring the referee only system at the next smoker. An effort will be made to induce George Blake to act as referee in matches when his boys are not fighting.

Flint recommended that Alfred F. O'Campo, Filipino interpreter at the circuit court, for a position as timekeeper. As no application was filed by O'Campo, the commission was unable to take any action on the matter. The name of Alky Dawson as referee again was introduced before the commission but no action was taken.

stretch they gracefully moved, Rachel Howland barely forging ahead to win by a mere yard. The race drew a deserving round of applause from the fans. The time was 7 minutes 47 1-5 seconds.

Another surprise was registered in the 100 yards breaststroke, women open, Hawaiian championship. S. Tomogawa, 40 & 8, won in a close finish by about a yard and a half from Mildred Slaght, who seemed rather tired from her previous race. Betty Stevenson finished third.

The 150 yard backstroke, men open, was won by A. Komori of the Nuuanu YMCA with Kapua Harris, Central YMCA, nosing out Adolph Desha of the University for the second place. Time was given at 1 minute 52 3-5 seconds. Komori overtook Desha, who had led up to the second lap, to win by about two yards. Kapua Harris barely nosed Desha out by a margin of one stroke.

The University of Hawaii's women
