

Night Surfing Is Tomorrow

Searchlights To Play As Riders Sport

(Continued from Page 1)

along the great crescent that forms Waikiki Beach.

Members and guests attending the Outrigger Canoe club's chowder party on the organization's beach lanai tomorrow evening will change into bathing apparel around nine o'clock. Half a dozen canoes will be slid into the water, and between 40 and 50 boards will be manned by the most skilled surf-riders of the Islands, headed by the great Duke.

Since Waikiki is recognized as the one place in the world where all conditions are ideal for manipulation of the great boards, the program of trick riding will be a revelation and a unique treat to the visiting navy men. Sitting, standing on the hands, tandem riding and daring stunts of the expert surf rider will be demonstrated, not by single riders but by groups.

While the dinner is being given for members of the Outrigger Club and their guests, "grandstand seats" on the beach for the surfing spectacle will be free to everyone.