

SR. VOLLISTS

TILTS TONIGHT

Outriggers Play Citywidiers In Opener; Alohas Take On Vagabonds

The greatly improved Outrigged Canoe club sextet meets the "dark horse" Citywide combination at 7:30 p. m. today at the Central Y hall in the feature melee of the scheduled Hawaiian AAU senior volleyball league's doubleheader.

The title defending Aloha Amateurs tussle with the Vagabonds in the nightcap. This also should be a hummer.

The Outriggers, after playing just so and so in the initial round, opened the second series so impressively that they took the highly touted Palama aggregation down the line Monday.

At the same time, the Citywidiers, who were replacing the University of Hawaii slammers, trumped the Vagabonds in their initial effort.

Good Slammers Included

These two squads have some sterling vollists and there should be plenty of sparks in their setto.

Aiming to keep their record unblemished, Manuel M. Ferreira's Alohas plan to take the Vagabonds in convincing style. However, the Alakea and Hotel St. machine has not been idle, and is expected to display a new attack which may cause an upset.

Outriggers—F. Logan, D. Janda, W. Bowman, K. Maertens, H. Van Orden and M. Westgate.

Citywidiers—S. Hart, S. Kaonohi, B. Loughmiller, J. Kahaunaele, D. Young and A. Smith.

Aloha Amateurs—A. Braun, A. Cordeiro, J. Keliikipi, J. Nobrega, C. Aiu and M. Cordeiro.

Vagabonds—S. Harris, G. De Coito, A. Chock, S. Lee, E. Shea and R. Mau.