Waikiki Willie

By WAIKIKI WILLIE

Warning: Waikiki Willie sees all, hears all, tells part of it.)

All out for the races! Tomorrow morning on the green-blue waters of our harbor are the canoe race eliminations for the crews to represent Oahu against the Guava Men of the Kona coast.

It promises to be a gala day. There will be some splendid competition. You may lay to that because I know when the Hui Nalu, Outrigger and Queen's Surf get together the fur is sure to fly.

Up to the present time the Outrigger has bested its rivals, but tomorrow it may mean a different story. The Outriggers still have their old boat and have lost some of their best men but have some promising young blood.

The Hui Nalus have their new White Horse all fixed up and besides that they have put in some new blood.

The Queen's Surf outfit has a brand new boat and has done some recruiting with the fine results that it has a bunch much superior to anything in the past.

If anyone has any cigars to put on the races then Waikiki Willie recommends, with reservations, however, that you put your El Fumidor on the Outrigger gang for the senior race. The junior race deserves your Fumidor on the Hui Nalu canoe. As to the other races, well, they're anybody's!
