

Waikiki's Crew Contingent Off to Kona This Afternoon

By EZ CRANE

Eighty - five trained - to - the - minute paddlers from Outrigger, Hui Nalu and Queen's Surfriders will embark aboard the USCGC Itasca this afternoon enroute to Kailua and the big Hawaiian canoe championships. Outrigger's contingent this afternoon will consist of 32 crack paddlers headed by Captain George Perry, while the Hui Nalu aggregation, with Captain Francis Wai at the helm, will carry over 26, several of the Black and Gold men having preceded the main group to Kona's training grounds. The Queen's outfit will number 27, with Charlie Amalu at the head.

Aboard the Itasca will be Governor Poindexter, who will go to the races as the official representative of the Territory.

The lineups of the crews of the Honolulu clubs are being closely guarded by coaches and captains, and very little will be known as to how the men will sit in the various boats until just before race time Saturday morning.

CARNIVAL TIME

With the arrival of the Itasca at Kailua tomorrow morning, the West Coast will assume its full holiday regalia. Until the excursion ship, Waialeale, steams out of the harbor late Saturday night homeward bound the Kona Coast will present a gay scene.

The excursionists will take off

(Continued on Page 3, Col. 4)