

Tired Biznes Men Organize Volley Loop

Seven Teams in Circuit Now Playing at Central YMCA

An answer to the speculative question in many peoples' minds regarding the leisure-time habits of captains of industry is furnished by the recent formation of the Business Men's invitational volleyball league of Honolulu. The personnel of this league is confined to business men who are over 30 years of age.

George Kellerman, assistant treasurer in the stocks and bonds department of the Bishop Trust company, is the league manager and will have charge of all game schedules. Matches will be played on Tuesday and Thursday evenings in the Central YMCA gym during the month of March and early part of April.

The league is composed of seven teams—Rotary, Outrigger Canoe, Lions, Representative, Nuuanu Y, Central Y Reds, and Central Y Blues. A roster of the team membership rolls reads like a list of who's who in the Honolulu commercial world. In the following listings, the clubs are tabulated at random and not ranked according to their relative importance in Honolulu's trade marts:

OUTRIGGER CANOE CLUB

In the first week of league play, Duke Kahanamoku's Rotary team spanked the Central Y Reds; the Lions club, under Bunny Chung, defeated the Central Y Blues. Then the Representative club stopped the winning streak of the Rotaries, and the Nuuanu Y team surprised everybody in flashing mid-season form in an easy win over the Outrigger Canoe bunch. The present standings of the teams are as follows:

	P.	W.	L.	Pct.
Representative	...	1	1	0	1.000
Nuuanu Y	1	1	0	1.000
Lions club	1	1	0	1.000
Rotary club	2	1	1	.500
Outrigger	1	0	1	.000
Central Blues	1	0	1	.000
Central Reds	1	0	1	.000
