

Canoe Paddlers Planning Rousing Aloha For Rivals

Canoe paddlers who invade Oahu in June for the big races in the arbor on Kamehameha Day will not find their Honolulu stay all a matter of fierce rivalry.

Entertainment galore will be furnished outside island athletes during their Oahu stay. Two features of the entertainment program were tentatively planned yesterday by members of the regatta committee at a luncheon meeting in the Outrigger Canoe club.

Charlie Amalu and Jimmy Whittle were named to a committee to make arrangements for a regatta dance to be held on the night of June 10 in the Outrigger pavilion as an aloha reception for the visiting paddlers.

Theodore "Pump" Searle was delegated to make arrangements for a big luau to be held on the night of the races, following the pageant to be presented under the auspices of the jubilee commission.

Searle announced that arrangements had been made to house 150
