

Surfboard Relay Slated

Second Waikiki Beach Program To Be Held Sunday

The Waikiki Beach water sports program goes into its second week on Sunday.

The program will start promptly at 3:00 p. m. with a surfboard paddling relay race between the various beach clubs. The Waikiki Beach Patrol, Hui Club, and the Queen's Surfers are all entering teams. The winning team will receive a cup.

Immediately following this race the surfboard polo will start. This week's tilt will be between the Outrigger Canoe Club and the Queen's Surfers.

At half time there will be a canoe race which will be unusual in that the crews will be made up of visiting wahines, and the steersman will not be allowed to help paddle but must confine himself to steering only.

Branfleet Manufacturing Company, makers of the famous Duke Kahanamoku and Kahala Sports wear, have donated merchandise consisting of beautiful silk scarfs for the wahines, and a Kahanamoku shirt to the boy on the winning crew.
