

Beach Sports Slated Today

Waikiki To Be Scene Of Canoe Races, Surf- board Polo

The Beach of Waikiki will be the scene of the second of a series of Sunday water sports programs this afternoon, starting at 3 p.m.

A surfboard paddling relay race between the various beach clubs—the Waikiki Beach Patrol, Hui Nalu and the Queen's Surfers, will open the afternoon's activities. A handsome cup will go to the victorious crew.

Immediately following this race, surfboard polo will start. Teams representing the Queen's Surfers and the Outrigger Canoe Club will provide this week's match.

At half time there will be a canoe race which will be novel in that the crews will be made up of visiting wahines and the steersman will not be allowed to help paddle but must confine himself to steering only.

Members of the victorious crew will receive attractive merchandise prizes in the form of sports wear donated by the Branfleet Manufacturing company.