

Macfarlane Urges Support for Bonds Of Outrigger Club

The Outrigger Canoe club is more than just another social organization, Walter Macfarlane, president, told a group of presidents and representatives of civic organizations Friday afternoon at a meeting in the Honolulu chamber of commerce assembly room.

"The Outrigger club is a community landmark, and as such its perpetuation is a community project," Mr. Macfarlane said. He urged the group to assist in selling a $90,000 bond issue for a new clubhouse.

He said that so far the club has obtained pledges for $20,000 worth of bonds so "the bulk of our work lies ahead." To date 145 new members have been signed up.
