

Outrigger Club Makes Appeal

With the deadline of Dec. 31 fast approaching, Walter Macfarlane, president of the Outrigger Canoe club, made another appeal yesterday to the members who crowded the chamber of commerce rooms in the largest turn-out yet recorded to help raise money to finance reconstruction of the club.

The club is still $52,500 short, but quite a number of pledges have been made. The members promised their sincere support and volunteered to spend the next three weeks canvassing all their friends for both memberships and assistance in the floating of the bonds.