

Outrigger Club to Hold Unique New Year Fete

Marking completion of their new $75,000 clubhouse at Waikiki, members of the Outrigger Canoe Club will celebrate New Year's Eve with one of the most elaborate and unusual parties ever held in the Islands, it was announced last night by Walter Macfarlane, president of the organization.

"Construction progress to date has been such as to give assurance that the club will be completed and furnished in ample time for members to dedicate the building with a gala celebration and get-together," said Mr. Macfarlane, "and we are already at work on plans for the party.

"We are developing a number of unusual features for this big affair and I can assure members it will be a New Year's party to remember. Members of the club will be notified by mail of the complete program as soon as possible so they may make reservations.

New Public Speech Classes To Begin

A new class in practical public speaking will begin at the Army and Navy YMCA on Wednesday, Oct. 9, at 7:30 p. m. The class will convene in the auditorium on the Second Floor under the direction of Birney Montcalm. The class is to be conducted for the benefit of service men and their friends. These

"Inasmuch as the Outrigger Canoe Club is so widely known, we hope to be able to broadcast part of the entertainment on the around-the-world broadcasts which feature programs from hotels and clubs throughout the United States.

"Months and months of hard work have gone into getting the magnificent building started and I feel that members will be delighted with the new club as they will see it completed New Year's Eve."
