

Surfboard Polo Slated

First Match of A Series To Be Held This Evening

The first of a series of surfboard water polo games will find the Territorial Beach Patrol opposing the Queens Surfers in the Waikiki War Memorial tank tonight at 7:30.

This will be the first surfboard water polo match in two years. The sport is one filled with excitement and has grown in popularity in surfing centers on the Mainland.

It is expected that teams from the Outrigger Canoe Club, Hui Naniu, University, Halekulani hotel and others will participate in the series.

The two teams for tonight's contest have on their respective rosters most of the outstanding surfmen in the Territory.

Territorial Beach Patrol: John D. Kapiko, Jr., Solo Mahoe, Diamond Martin, Moses Manuwai, Sam Steamboat, Ox Keaulani, Tommy Leong, Stanley Sang, Ralph Soong, Ken Ozaki.

Queens Surfers: Wallace Forsyth, Gene Forsyth, Cyril Carvalho, Gene Smith, Frank Kennedy, Jack Hague, Edward Hulieea, Brownie Barnes.
