

This weekend Waikiki will swing open the portals on its greatest event in many a year.

Yep, the new Outrigger club will open for business after all these months of anxious waiting by the club members and other Waikikians.

It was a long wait but worth it as now the members have a club which they can well be proud of. They are going first cabin and strictly so. What's more the club will really be private and there won't be room for any Kellys to come sliding around getting guest privileges on no invites.

If any pikakes are to be hung, Walter Macfarlane gets all 20 strands. It was Walter Mac who fought, pleaded, begged and went sleepless to give us the Outrigger club as it stands today. It was Walter Mac who almost single handedly did not only the yeoman duty but the leg work in raising the kala and putting the club over.
