

Liquor Post To Sally Hale

Appointment of Louis Hale, known popularly to hundreds of Waikiki visitors as "Sally" Hale, as a liquor inspector was announced yesterday by the Oahu liquor commission. Mr. Hale, who has been employed for some time on navy defense projects, begins his new work Sunday.

Mr. Hale won fame as the head of Waikiki Beach Patrol. He is an expert outrigger canoe steersman and an accomplished surfboard rider. He was selected by the liquor commission after passing the required civil service examinations.
