

Volley Series Is Under Way

Vying for the volleyball championship of the Outrigger canoe club during its grand opening week are sixteen doubles and four six man teams. The annual volleyball tournament is being played a little earlier this year so that the finals may be held on the day the club is formally opened in its new plant, Kamehameha Day.

First in the series of opening games in the six man team race was on Friday afternoon between the teams headed by Wilfred Godbold and Duke Kahana-moku. The other two teams will hold their opening game Saturday afternoon on the club's brand new sand court. Jennings Parker and Sam Fuller head the other two six man panini outfits.

In the doubles compet among the sixteen teams the aggregations will be seeded by the hard process of competition. Favored to enter the semi-finals and finals are the doubles teams of Jennings Parker and Joe (Banana) Fawkner. Another team is that of Warren (Superman) Kanne and Ace Tuohy. Both lads are among the Internal Revenue department's ace court men although Superman is a candidate for Uncle Sam's boys in sun tan out there at the Schofield Reception Center come June 30.

Those two boys of Naval Reserve yeoman's standings, Bobbie and Johnny Dolan, are also vying for the gonfalon.
