

Walter J. Macfarlane

The passing of Walter J. Macfarlane will bring sadness to all with whom he had even the slightest acquaintance. He was that type of young man. One did not have to know him intimately to admire and love him.

His sincerity and his kindness were unmistakably genuine. His heart was big. His concern for the comfort and happiness of others was real. He personified the finest characteristics of the Hawaiian people.