Back the Attacks Now--BUY WAR BONDS

Lei Day is May Day in Hawaii—and in other peaceful years it was a day of bright pageantry—a day for fun and frolic and flowers.

Lei Day is still May Day in Hawaii—but it is also buy an extra Bond Day—so that you and yours may, that much sooner, enjoy the fruits of victory and peace.

So come along, Hawaii—and prove our mettle to the Mainlanders again. Let's buy and buy bonds—let's show everyone we know how to celebrate Lei Day in our own inimitable way. And remember, every Bond bought during this great Lei Day celebration will have a special stamp (shown at left) imprinted on it.
