ADMISSION FREE

Walter Macfarlane, kamaaina businessman, legislator and sponsor of Hawaiian sports, was largely responsible for the re-building of the old Outrigger Canoe Club in 1941. His death in California in June, 1942, plunged the entire Territory into deep sorrow. Thus it is fitting that these races be held in his honor—a memorial to "Walter Mac" such as he, himself, would have chosen.

The display above has been made possible through the cooperation of business men who knew and loved "Walter Mac" and endorse heartily the efforts of the Outrigger Canoe Club to foster the ancient water sports of Hawaii.
