

Outrigger to Honor Waves Director

Capt. Mildred H. McAfee, national director of the Waves, who is here on an inspection tour of the Pacific Ocean Areas, will be a special guest of the Outrigger Canoe Club for a canoe surfing party tomorrow afternoon at 3 p.m.

Also in the group will be Lt. Frances Rich, aide to Capt. McAfee, and Lt. Cmdr. Eleanor Rigby, director of Waves, 14th Naval District.

They will go out in the Princess, last of the famous surfing canoes of the Hawaiian Royalty. It will mark the first appearance

Nelson, pre-tourney favorite who still has 36 holes to make up. The end of the second day found Ky Laffoon, Chicago, shooting steady par, in sixth place with 140, and Ed Furgol, Detroit amateur, and Willie Goggin, White Plains, N. Y. tied for seventh with 142.

The 143 bracket included Henry Ransom King's Point, N. Y.; Joe Turnesa, Rockville Center, N. Y.; defending titlist Sammy Byrd, Detroit, and Henry Picard, Harrisburg, Pa.

of the Princess since Pearl Harbor.

Heading the Outrigger committee for the surfing party is Duke P. Kahanamoku, Hawaii's world famous swimmer and sportsman. Others on the committee are Gay Harris, chairman of beach activities; Charley Amalu, owner of the Princess; David Kahanamoku, Miss Jeanne Reicherd, heading the women's canoe committee and chairman of the canoe party; Bob Fisher, assistant captain of the club; and Johnny Holling-er, the OCC beach captain.

FISHING

ANYTIME—$10
TACKLE FURNISHED

351 Ala Wai Canal
Between Bridges

JIM LESTER Ph. 957034