

Gay Harris To Outrigger Club

Gay Harris, well known Hawaiian aquatic figure, has been appointed full time assistant manager of Outrigger Canoe club by the board of directors of the organization, it was learned today from Harold A. Mountain, president.

Mr. Harris, who has been on a part time basis, has accepted the appointment and will help operate the popular Waikiki beach club and intensify its athletic program.

Mr. Mountain said that Henry DeGorog, manager, now is on the mainland on a three months leave of absence and that he was uncertain of returning.

When definite word is received from Mr. DeGorog the Outrigger club board of directors will meet to decide on future appointments.

For the past several months the club has expanded its sports activities. George D. (Dad) Center, famous swimming coach, has been instructing junior members in aquatics, while Duke P. Kahanamoku, former Olympic swimming champion and now sheriff of Honolulu, is handling the boat sailing department.

Mr. Harris is on leave of absence from the Hawaiian Electric Co., where he has been employed for more than 20 years.
