

OPPOSING RACIAL DISCRIMINATION

Editor The Star-Bulletin: You have done Hawaii a distinct service by your prompt and conspicuous coverage of the discriminatory practices of the Outrigger Canoe club, in this instance involving Keo Nakama in particular.

Certainly there is no place for such a policy to be followed by any club or organization in Hawaii. The sooner we begin to follow the tenets of democracy the better it will be for Hawaii. We have a unique opportunity to build in Hawaii a society of mutual trust and help and we ought to direct all our energies to that end. The world is waiting for some group of people to prove that races can live together. That is the challenge that the world throws at us in Hawaii. We must not fail: we dare not fail: we can not fail.

The Christian forces of Hawaii are with you in your dedication to help build a truly interracial Hawaii and urge that you will untiringly continue until the work is completed. Gratefully yours,
