

LONG HOPS WITH LOUI

About Dis 'n' Dat In Sports

Sports followers here in particular and on the mainland in general today still are stunned, if not disappointed, by two events that occurred over the weekend.

One, of course, is the Outrigger-Bill Smith and Kiyoshi (Keo) Nakama incident as first reported in The Star-Bulletin Saturday.

The other is St. Mary's last minute defeat at the hands of UCLA (University of California at Los Angeles) in Los Angeles later the same day.

As for the Outrigger club barring Nakama as a luncheon guest of Smith, a life member of the organization, we deeply regret it happened and hope other private clubs of a similar nature will reveal to the public their "unwritten policies" to avoid embarrassment.

Racial discrimination has no place in sports and athletics. When it comes to that it is time for those with the idea to fold up or call themselves something else.
