

Seals Go Surfing At Waikiki Today

Members of the San Francisco Seals baseball club and others accompanying the team are guests today of the Outrigger Canoe club at Waikiki for surfing and canoeing.

Activities will begin at 4 o'clock.

George D. (Dad) Center, veteran aquatic figure here, and Duke P. Kahanamoku, Hawaii's most famous swimmer, will be on hand to show the visitors a typical day at the beach of Waikiki.

Tomorrow evening at Hawaiian Town, one of Honolulu's favorite night spots, the visiting sports writers and officials of the Seals will be entertained.

Charles P. Chang, a manager at the cabaret, has promised a nice feed and a first class Hawaiian floor show.
