

Gen. Smith Thanks Outrigger Club for Services Rendered

The Outrigger Canoe club has received a letter of appreciation from Brig. Gen. Wayne C. Smith for its cooperation with the army's sports activity program.

"While little has been said about your activities in supporting service sports, I would like to tell you how much your work has meant to the service personnel stationed here during the war and during the postwar period," writes the Schofield Barracks commanding officer.

"May I ask you to present my aloha to the many friends which I have in your organization."
