

BUSTER CRABBE WENT BACK "home" to Punahou Friday with several personalities from his Aqua Parade currently showing at the Honolulu stadium. It was at Punahou that Buster broke into swimming headlines. Here he and Vicki Manalo Draves, Olympic diving champion, are giving autographs for several members of the Punahou swim team. Walker Picks Graz
NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (NANA) — Mickey Walker, former welterweight and middleweight star, picks Rocky Graziano as the best fighter now left in the somewhat bedraggled game.
"I mean by fighter just what the word means," Mickey said. "Rocky Graziano would be glad to fight for nothing, just as Greb and I did. He likes to wade out there and start swinging with both hands."
"He likes to fight. Most of the others are strictly businessmen first. Ray Robinson used to be a good fighter. He is still good but is moving over the hill.

'Swimmers Night' Slated Tuesday at Parade; Crabbe, Girls Visit Punahou

There will be a big-scale reunion of oldtime swimmers in Honolulu stadium Tuesday night.
It will be "Swimmers' Night" at the Aqua Parade of 1950, with two sections—32 and 34—set aside for water-circle greats and comers.
The seats are in the reserved area, but members of the swimming set need only general admission tickets for themselves and families, officials of the show-sponsoring HGEA said today.
Buster Crabbe, father and star of the Parade, connected with some of the swimmers from his own island days during an Outrigger Canoe club party several days ago.
Yesterday, he took the show's champions to Punahou school, where he had been a 1927 graduate.
It was a field day for campus camera fans and autograph hounds with President Dr. John Fox doing a good share of the shutter snapping.

RECORD STANDS
Buster's 2:19.2 time for the 220 freestyle has stood as Punahou's record for 23 years. Dr. Fox said in introducing Buster to a general assembly at the pool-side.
Crabbe, a movie star (formerly "Tarzan") for 17 years as well as being an Olympic champion, drew Sinatra-kind squeals from the older co-eds.
The male audience whistled and wolfalized at trim Vicki Manalo

Draves, American-Filipina diving star.
'DAD' CENTER IN STANDS
In the stands was George (Dad) Center, who trained Buster when he was at Punahou. Crabbe introduced him as "the greatest coach in the world."
The Paraders gave a diving and swimming exhibition, some acts from the show and some ad-lib. Last night was "Punahou Night" for the first performance.
Only one performance is scheduled for "Swimmers' Night," at 7:30 p. m.
