

Outrigger Club Scores a Good 1949; Prospects for 1950 Bright

Plenty of activity and bright prospects are reported by Wilford D. Godbold, recently elected president of the Outrigger Canoe club.

This beach club is big — and is rapidly growing bigger.

During 1949 the club's net worth increased by $16,054.94. This is in contrast to several other clubs in the territory, and some commercial organizations, which lost business in 1949.

The Outrigger Canoe club, long a favorite with visitors, has established reciprocity arrangements with a number of other clubs in the islands, in foreign countries and on the mainland.

One foreign club with which an exchange of club privileges was arranged in 1949 is Tattersall's—famous boat and beach club of Sydney, Australia.

Like arrangements were made with the New York Athletic club, the Multnomah Athletic club of Portland, the San Diego club, the Santa Monica Swimming club, the Club Del Mar of Santa Monica and the Balboa Bay club of Newport Harbor, all of California.

Improvements in the Outrigger Canoe club in 1949 comprised a renovated dining room, a new reading room, a new cocktail lounge and additions to the locker rooms. Total cost of these improvements was $61,011.79.

OFFICERS FOR 1950

Officers for 1950 are:

Mr. Godbold, president; William J. Mullahey, vice president; Samuel M. Fuller, secretary; Herbert M. Taylor, treasurer.

Directors added to the board included LeRoy C. Bush, president and general manager of the Ho-lolulu Construction & Draying Co. and Ernest R. Cameron, senior member of Cameron & Johnstone.

REELECTED

Incumbent directors reelected were Leslie Hicks, president-manager of Hawaiian Electric Co.; Mr. Godbold, city-county attorney; Mr. Taylor of the Bishop National bank; Duke Kahanamoku, sheriff of Honolulu.

“Carry-over” directors are Mr. Fuller, tax assessor; William C. Capp of the civil aeronautics administration; Robert D. Fischer, superintendent of the directory, Mutual Telephone Co.; Mr. Mullahey, Pacific representative, Pan American; Murray Johnson of Hawaiian Electric Co.

FHA Here Has Record Home Financing Month

More homes were financed through the insured mortgage system of the federal housing administration during February than in any other month in FHA's 15 year history here.

This was announced by J. Stowell Wright, territorial director of FHA.

During February, 169 commitments to insure mortgages totaling $1,572,750 were issued by the local office.

These 169 mortgages will finance 180 living units, Mr. Wright said. The largest previous month was