Where They Are . . . What They're Doing

The largest party in the history of Honolulu's world famous Outrigger Canoe club was that given Saturday night in celebration of the 60th birthday of its most famous member, Duke Kahanamoku.

The crowd of nearly 500 guests spilled out from the main building and lanais onto the grounds. In the moonlight the colorful party of aloha shirted, muumuu clad guests toasted the health of Waikiki's colorful personality.

WITH THE EFFECTIVE surf board lockers as a backdrop, club members themselves pitched in on the cooking and serving. The guests waited on themselves.

The background lockers was the original club structure and has stored the boards of the thousands who have joined in surfing during the intervening years.

The atmosphere was warm and intimate. Old friends who had once been regular beach frequenters saw each other for the first time in years.

The grey haired Duke responded with kingly charm to the adulation of admirers, old and new.

Dinner jacketed guests from nearby hotels who tried to come in were gently but firmly eased out by alert police officers stationed along the beach side.

Gayety grew as the night wore on. Duke contributed a hula as a starter to impromptu dancing by others.

ALL GUESTS had attached to their tickets a section supplying "one beer or a drink on the Duke."

Chief chef for a night Bill Mulahey served a meal of superb quality.

Lending Bill an eager hand with the steak frying were Herbert (Yabo) Taylor, Sam Fuller, Bill Morris and Bill Rolph.

Junior chefs were Bobby Daniels and Jerry Smith.

A special feature on the menu was cook T. Naga's famous mahi-mahi chowder.

HONORING their brother with a song on his birthday, Bernice Pihiko, Sargent, David, and Sam Kahanamoku sang, "We Love You, Duke."

David came down from Maui for the occasion.

Other members of the family were Mr. and Mrs. William Kahanamoku.

Sitting at the birthday table with the Duke also were Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Melim, Elmer Leterman, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Godbold.

AMONG THOSE ENJOYING the moonlight dancing attired in colorful and comfortable muumuus and aloha shirts were Clyde and Mavis French, Bob and Lois Paris, Betty Paris, Ben Bond, Ken Chaney, Pat Honl, Alice Hite, Jan Kinear, Bob Bush and Jean Mac-or slides. Special seats will be reserved for Pen Women and their guests. The remainder of the seats will be open to the public.

Phillips, Thad Eckstrand, and Ruth and Kelly Campbell.

FAMILIAR FACES of beach habitués included Mr. and Mrs. George (Dad) Center, Mr. and Mrs. Sally Hale, Bill Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Capp, Mr. and Mrs. John Hollinger, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hollinger, Chick Daniels, Ah Kong Pang, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Magill Kamakila Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Kaupiko, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Grace, Mr. and Mrs. John (Laughing John) O. Kauo, Harry Robello, Charles (Panama) Baptiste, Soupy Coelho, Melvin Paoa, Jimmy Hakuole, R. A. Anderson, and Gay Harris.

Stevens, Harlo Dillingham, Mr. and Mrs. Addison Love, Mr. and Mrs. William Spitz, Gibson Rietow, Miss Jeanne McDonald, E. H. Thomas.

Miss Yvonne Boyd, Miss Kinau Boyd, Jim Pierce, Pat Wyman, Miss Dorothea Paris, Mrs. Winnifred K. McCombs, Cmdr. Robert L. Green, George A. Cook.

LEIS AND ALOHAS marked a party at Waioli tea room Saturday feting Kay Hanley and her apartment-mate, Marian Krauss.

Kay, whose Southern drawl has been heard on the University of Hawaii campus for the past two years, is leaving September 2 to become student director of the Stanford YW. She held a similar job here.

At Stanford she'll succeed Miss Grace Steinbeck, who headed the Honolulu YWCA before her retirement last summer. Miss Steinbeck was pressed back into service at Stanford for awhile.

AFTER SEING Kay off on the Lurline, Marian will board a plane herself that very night. She's bound for Connecticut, her home, after a year in the islands. Auburn-haired Molly Forbes, who was the third occupant of the Hanley-Krauss apartment on Aloha drive, sailed on the President Wilson August 18.

The pool side party at the Pacific club Saturday evening was a great success.

Members and their guests enjoyed a spaghetti dinner and later danced, and danced. Some reached home at 6 a. m.

SEEN WERE the following hosts and hostesses with their parties:

Messrs. and Mesdames of B. Ault, George Campbell, E. R. Champion, A. B. Clark, George Collins, J. A. Driver, T. A. Klabau, James F. Greig, R. H. Lawder, H. D. Marley,
