'KANDY KID' — Lyle Lewis (above), 23, described as the U. S. marines "Kandy Bar Kid" who stalks communists behind the lines in Korea, sometimes to a depth of two miles, takes along three candy bars as his rations while on missions lasting as long as 40 hours. His father, L. D. Lewis of Tacoma, Wash., said as a youth he stalked deer in the woods and always carried a ration of candy bars. Lyle's wife and three children reside with his father.—AP wirephoto.

ALCOHOL TAX UNIT UNDER PROBE

WASHINGTON—(AP)—House tax probers have the alcohol tax unit (ATU) of the internal revenue Bureau under investigation, but staff investigators said there is little possibility of public hearings until after the November elections.

Many animals move themselves by reaching out, taking hold of something and pulling themselves toward it.
