CATAMARAN RETURNS—With its hull rebuilt and covered with plastic, the Manu Kai, one of the world's fastest catamarans, was greeted at Waikiki beach by about 300 persons yesterday morning when it returned from dry dock where it has been for four months. Woody Brown, inset, skipper and part owner, sailed the boat from Sand Island to the Outrigger Canoe club with his family and several friends. The Manu Kai is used commercially to take tourists on rides. It was built five years ago. (Advertiser photo.)
