Kam Day Canoes Dominate Harbor

Honolulu harbor will not be closed to marine traffic today, it was announced by Capt. G. C. Carlstedt, US Coast Guard, although outrigger canoe races will be conducted in the harbor from 10:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. as part of the Kamehameha Day activities.

Capt. Carlstedt said, however, that all non-participating vessels are requested to cooperate to the fullest extent by operating at reduced speed and exercising utmost caution within Honolulu harbor during the designated hours.

The marine regatta will be patrolled by Coast Guard vessels.
