Coveted Canoe Trophies At Stake July 25

KAILUA — Several trophies will be at stake during the running of the Hawaiian canoe racing championships July 25 at Kailua Bay.

Most coveted prize of all is the Julian Yates perpetual trophy, awarded to the over-all winner in the day's events, which is the club amassing the greatest number of points.

Official scoring point system allows-first place, five points; second place, three points; third place, one point.

The Julian Yates trophy is a magnificiently hand-carved Papa Kui Ai (Pigboard) of monkeypod, incorporating ancient Polynesian decorative motifs with the frigate bird forming one end of the beautiful trophy. This top award is given by the family in honor of their father, Julian R. Yates, Hawaiian sportsman and canoe racing enthusiast for whom the regatta is named.

The Kona Inn perpetual trophy is awarded to the club winning the blue ribbon event, the men's senior six race which is a gruelling three mile test of speed and stamina. The Inn trophy consists of an accurate, beautifully made, scale replica of Kamehameha V's own racing canoe, held aloft by two Menehunes and ornamented by suitable plaques. It is given by Kona Inn in recognition of the importance of canoe racing in the field of sports.

Team trophies will be awarded to the club winning each of the other events in the day's racing schedule. These trophies are made possible through the interest and kokua of business firms and individuals in Kona, Hilo, and Honolulu.

Individual awards are given to each paddler in the canoes winning first, second or third place in the eight point-scoring races, out of the total of 11 events.

The Outrigger Club of Honolulu was last years high point winner and is the present holder of the Julian Yates perpetual trophy. Kai Opua canoe club of Kona was in second place, one point ahead of the Waikiki Surf club. The Kona Inn perpetual trophy was won by Waikiki Surf, the present holder.

BALLOONS STRUCK

Although lightning seldom strikes balloons, three entries in the Gordon Bennett balloon race of 1923 were struck, and fell to the earth in flames.
