Stock Car Racing

Carney Wins 200-Lapper Before Estimated 20,000

By HARDY HUTCHINSON

The stock car Summer racing season officially closed last night with a bumper crowd of an estimated 20,000 on hand to take in the longest race staged at the Honolulu Stadium since the sport was introduced here.

Pete Carney (50), outlasted a field of 33 sportsmen racers to win a hazardous and long 200-lap main event race. Seventeen drivers finished the race.

It was Carney's first major stock car conquest.

TIMED IN 1:10:54.8

Persistency, patience and a sound motor attributed to his unpredicted triumph. He spun around the 200 laps in 1 hour 10 minutes 54.8 seconds.

Carney did not gain the lead until the 182nd lap.

Prior to that it was strictly a race among "name" drivers.

Top contenders from the 30th lap to the 182nd included the crowd's favorite, Jerry Unser (92), Dixie Lawlor (47) and Barney Friend.

Friend grabbed the lead midway in the grueling chase, on the 81st lap.

Barney fought off challenges by Lawlor and Unser until he lost his right front wheel on the 165th lap.

Unser then shot into the lead amid cheers from the crowd.

BURNED OUT MOTOR

But his engine began to show the strain on the 177th lap and Jerry was forced to pull out of the race with a burned out motor on the 182nd lap.

That's when Carney powered to the fore and remained there till the end of the chase.

Islanders to Drill
