Macfarlane

(Continued from Page 1)

ganizing force in the Outrigger Canoe club.

* * *

MR. MACFARLANE was the son of Frederick W. Macfarlane and Emile Widemann. He attended the old St. Mary's high school at San Francisco, Calif., Punahou Academy in Honolulu, and the Peralto Hall in West Berkeley. He was graduated from the University of California at Berkley in 1903.

After his graduation he worked with his father at the Union Feed Co., and in 1907 together with his father incorporated the Kahaluu Pineapplpe & Ranch Co. with Ahuimanu Pineapple Ranch Co. and built the Kahaluu Pineapple cannery near the present site of St. John's by the Sea Episcopal Church in Kahaluu.

The company was incorporated with Libby, McNeill & Libby of Honolulu in 1911, and he served as its president. In 1917 when the Macfarlane interests were sold to Libby, McNeill & Libby of Chicago, he left the company and founded the Macfarlane Tuna Co., forerunner of Hawaiian Tuna Packers, Ltd. In 1919 he moved to California where he lived for seven years.

* * *

HE RETURNED to the Islands in 1926 and operated a poultry ranch at Niu. He joined Hawaiian Tuna Packers in 1934 and was continuously employed there until his retirement in August of this year.

His grandfather was the Honorable H. A. Widemann, who was an eminent statesman during Hawaiian monarchy days and served as minister of interior and finance. He also was a member of the privy council and the house of nobles.

His father was a prominent local businessman, for many years a director of the Bank of Hawaii

(Continued from Page 1)

Hawaii, chairman; Joseph L. Dwight, President of the Territorial Board of Agriculture and Forestry, and Will N. King, Director of the Hawaiian Area Office of Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation, U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

The committee is to study a report made recently by Mr. Dwight on the subject of aid to farmers and will meet with representatives of the farmers.

* * *

GOVERNOR KING appointed the new committee at a meeting held in his Iolani Palace office. Attending were Marguerite K. Ashford, territorial land commissioner; James W. Glover, chairman of the emergency drought committee; Mr. Dwight, and Secretary Turner.

The Governor explained that the farmers at Kula, Maui, have been the only ones to request territorial drought assistance. However, other farmers throughout drought areas may be entitled to aid when the assistance program has been worked out, he added.

---

and the Hawaiian Electric Co.

An uncle, George Walter Macfarlane, accompanied King Kalakaua on his trip to England, as chamberlain to the king, and served as a member of the privy council and house of nobles. Another uncle was Commodore Clarence W. Macfarlane, organizer of the Trans-Pacific Yacht races which was started in 1906.

* * *

MR. MACFARLANE was a member of the Hawaii Polo Club and played on the Oahu Polo team for many years with Walter Dillingham, Harold Castle and Arthur Rice. He also was a member of the Outrigger Canoe Club, the Hawaiian Civic Club, and St. Christopher's Episcopal Church.