ated next to the hotel property.

Mrs. Arthur L. Andrews, Uluniu Club president, said discussions with Sheraton have been underway. She declined to comment further.

"We're going to look into every avenue," Smith said.

WILL EXPLORE

"If there is any way of staying around (the present site) we're going to explore it.

"This appeared to be a way.

"I'm reasonably sure it would have been okay if that (Sheraton-Bishop) lease had gone through," Smith added.

The president said it now appears the canoe club will move to the Elks Club property.

Asked what the canoe club would do with its Elks Club lease if it moved instead to the hotel grounds, Smith replied:

"We would do something with it.

"I have my ideas but it would take an awfully long time to put my ideas into effect," Smith said.
