

Actor David Niven—one of Hollywood's best dressed men—abandoned his usually impeccable attire yesterday to climb into an Outrigger Beach Services shirt and spend the day as an unpaid beach boy. The borrowed shirt was appropriately labeled "David." The Academy Award winner has been surfing every day since arriving with his two sons July 16 for an Island vacation.—Photo by Val Valentine.