

The Week's Fashions

By HELEN DE HAVEN

A giddy entry in the town's holiday sweepstakes is on the books Friday afternoon at the Outrigger Canoe Club.

It's a "For Men Only" fashion show, and the sign means what it says.

Male guests, seated in austere privacy in the club's Old Timers' Lounge, will see a 45-number show by Andrade.

This is a house which prefers to give comparatively few shows, and when one is produced, it's a dazzler.

Women and their guests, seated apart in the main dining room, will glimpse "almost, but not all of what the men see," says Mrs. Doris McClair, mastermind of the afternoon's program.

THE ARRAY OF swimsuits, cocktail dresses, lounge sets and lingerie (in the veddy swish style, gentlemen) is geared to give the men ideas on what women like to get for Christmas.

Six professional models have been engaged. Show narrator is to be Richard Wheeler, president of Andrade's.

The big fashion show is at 5:30 p.m., and is preceded by dear old happy hour, to be launched at 4 p.m.

A brief and novel event is set for 4:30 p.m., when Outrigger members will model in a style show of fashions from McInerny's, Ross Sutherland, Winifred Dick and Azure Kuono's shop.

THE CLUB can accommodate approximately 250 guests for the proceedings (which wind up with dinner).

Members of the club are welcome, as well as guests of stores whose clothes will appear during the two shows.

Still another part of the afternoon's scenery will be a gift bar—items to be purchased on the spot, by men for women—to provide further ideas on how to spread Christmas cheer.

---

In 2888 B.C. Chinese emperor Shen-nung listed 300 medicinal properties of soy beans—the Oriental protein which supplanted rice.