

Lowell Will Manage U.S. Volley Team

John Lowell, athletic director at Church College, yesterday was named manager and trainer of the U.S. Men's Volleyball team for the Pan-American Games at Winnipeg, Canada, July 22-Aug. 5.

Bill Robinson, Hawaii commissioner for the U.S. Volleyball Association, received notice of the appointment. He said that he has high hopes that several players from Hawaii will be on the U.S. team.

Among the candidates would be Pete Velasco, Tom Haines, Mike McMahon and Tony Crabb.

Two teams will compete in the nationals at Detroit starting May 3. The men's team will be from the Outrigger Canoe Club; the women's representing the Central Y.
